FOREWORD

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 3636 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 133, Sizing systems and designations for clothes, and was circulated to the member bodies in October 1975.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	Iran	Spain
Brazil	Israel	Sweden
Chile	Japan	Switzerland
Denmark	Mexico	Turkey
Finland	Netherlands	United Kingdom
France	New Zealand	U.S.A.
Hungary	Romania	U.S.S.R.
India	South Africa, Rep. of	Yugoslavia

The member bodies of the following countries expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

Canada
Germany
Italy
Poland
