FOREWORD

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 4481 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 73, Consumer questions, and was circulated to the member bodies in November 1975.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	Hungary	Netherlands
Belgium	India	Romania
Bulgaria	Iran	South Africa, Rep. of
Canada	Ireland	Sweden
Czechoslovakia	Israel	Turkey
Finland	Italy	United Kingdom
France	Mexico	U.S.S.R.

No member body expressed disapproval of the document.
