

Guide to setting up a parts database

ICS 35.240.60

British Standards Society

Membership of the British Standards Society is open to any individual interested in the benefits, preparation and application of standards at company, national and international level. The society forms the UK member body of IFAN, the International Federation for the Application of Standards.

The society is organized into seven regions, six in the UK and one for overseas members. There is a regular programme of one-day seminars held in different locations throughout the UK. Frequent regional meetings are held during the winter months.

Members receive a personal copy of BSI's monthly magazine, Business Standards, periodical issues of the British Standards Society Bulletin and a membership list giving full addresses, telephone numbers and particular interests of members to facilitate personal contacts. They also have the use of the BSI Library, opportunities to bring technical problems to the attention of other members and BSI staff concerned with them and receive substantial discounts on all fees for seminars and forums organized by the society.

For further details contact the Secretary, British Standards Society, 389 Chiswick High Road, London W4 4AL (Telephone 0181 996 9000).

This publication does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users are responsible for its correct application.

This Published Document, having been prepared under the direction of the Management Committee of the British Standards Society, was published under the authority of the Standards Board and comes into effect on 15 May 1998

© BSI 1998

The following BSI references relate to the work on this Published Document:
Committee reference OC/34

ISBN 0 580 29542 7

Amendments issued since publication

Amd. No.	Date	Text affected