

Obsolescence management — Code of practice for obsolescence notification and support from suppliers of electronic components

ICS 03.100.50; 31.020

British Standards Society

Membership of the British Standards Society is open to any individual interested in the benefits, preparation and application of standards at company, national and international level. The Society is the UK member of the International Federation of Standards Users (IFAN).

The Society is organized into seven regions, six in the UK and one for overseas members. There is a regular programme of one-day seminars held in different locations throughout the UK, and frequent regional meetings are held during the winter months.

Members receive a personal copy of Business Standards and Update Standards, a quarterly Bulletin and an annual Handbook giving full postal and email addresses, telephone numbers and particular interests of all members, to facilitate personal contacts and networking. Other benefits include use of the BSI Library, opportunities for discussing standards issues informally with other members and feeding back user needs and concerns to BSI. Members also receive substantial discounts on all fees for seminars and forums organized by the Society.

For further details, contact the Secretary, British Standards Society, BSI, 389 Chiswick High Road, London W4 4AL (telephone 020 8996 7081).

This Published Document, having been prepared under the direction of the Management Committee of the British Standards Society, was published under the authority of the Standards Committee and comes into effect on 15 December 2000
© BSI 12-2000

Amendments issued since publication

Amd. No.	Date	Comments

The following BSI reference relates to the work on this Published Document:
Committee reference OC/34